

An Invitation to Partner with Ola Compass

Hawai'i

Aloha,

Thank you for taking the time to connect and to learn a little more about Ola Compass.

Ola Compass was born from lived experience, a deep commitment to the acquired brain injury (TBI & nTBI) community, and faith in the guidance of Heavenly Father. It was created from a place of love, heartbreak, perseverance, and the belief that no survivor, caregiver, family member, or supporter should have to walk this journey without compassionate guidance, trustworthy information, and hope.

Ola Compass is currently in a season of listening, learning, and research. It began as an LLC on purpose so that time could be taken to understand what acquired brain injury (TBI & nTBI) survivors, caregivers, families, and supporters truly need before building further. The long-term vision includes establishing a nonprofit shaped by the voices and wisdom of the very community this work hopes to serve.

Ola Compass is seeking partners who share this heart for standing in the gap for Hawai'i's acquired brain injury (TBI & nTBI) community. Partnership can take many forms: resource sharing, referrals, education, research collaboration, in-kind support, or funding that helps this work take root. Every connection, large or small, has the potential to strengthen support for survivors, caregivers, and families.

If what you have heard resonates with you, Ola Compass would welcome the opportunity to continue this conversation and explore what a partnership together could look like.
